

Language and Culture in Lucca, Italy 2008

Lucca is one of the few Tuscan towns to retain its original urban structure. The ancient centre was enclosed and protected by Roman walls, and the city developed within them until the end of the 19th century, creating an interesting superimposition of historical styles. Today the walls play an important part in town life, shielding the streets of the centre from traffic and creating a ring of green around them. Lucca has developed into a modern city, at the same time retaining the characteristics of a little country town where ancient and modern coexist.

Our school trips are suitable for students aged 13 – 18. Our centrally-located language school teaches Italian to students of all ages, employing fully qualified teachers experienced in teaching Italian as a foreign language. Course content is designed in full consultation with the group leader. Accommodation is in homestays selected and inspected by the school. Excursions and activities are conducted in Italian and are chosen to suit the group.
